Installation

This brief instruction manual will assist you in installing the software necessary to use the database with the details from the study 'Cooperating for Science'. To use the database you will have to install a Citrix Web Client. This is a one time only procedure to allow you to use this secured database environment.

To install the Citrix Web Client please follow the following instructions. Installation will only take about two minutes.

Open Internet Explorer and fill in the URL as is done in the example below: https://sanpad.niza.nl
